Legion Ladies Auxiliary Elects Officers For 1959

The election of officers for the coming year followed the regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, held Wednesday, Dec. 17, in the Legion Hall. The slate returned was as follows: President, Mrs. Gordon Bell; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Dave Neville; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. A. C. Marsh; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Jones. Executive members: Mrs. O. Leroh, Mrs. E. Caruthers, Mrs. C. Matlock, Mrs. A. Ulley, Mrs. C. Andrews and Mrs. S. Mainland. All offices were filled by acclamation. Cliff McAskill, president of Legion branch No. 21, assisted by comrade Mel Eamor, conducted the election. The new officers were duly installed by the retiring president, Mrs. C. L. Kuykendall and installing staff.

During the regular business session routine matters were dealt with and one application for membership was received. This application received the approval of the committee and members, and the secretary will notify the candidate to be present at the next general meeting for initiation.

Discussion regarding the sponsoring of a series of card parties was held and it was decided to hold the first party early in the new year.

At the conclusion of the election and business session, the meeting was turned over to an entertainment committee. Mrs. Clayton Clarkson conducted an amusing contest, after which a Christmas sing-song was enjoyed. The raffle was won by Mrs. O. A. Craig. Members exchanged small gifts and a refreshment committee served a dainty lunch.

No Advocate Next Week

This issue of the Advocate, date-lined Dec. 25, but actually published Dec. 23, contains the traditional season's greetings from businessmen throughout the county to their friends and customers.

Following our usual custom at the year-end, the Advocate will not be published next week—the week between Christmas and New Year's. The office will be open regular hours as usual for commercial printing and general business.

The next edition of the Advocate will be published Thursday morning, Jan. 8, and district news reporters are reminded to send in as much of their news as possible the previous weekend to avoid an overload of typesetting.

United Church Hi-C Group Nativity Play

On Sunday evening, Dec. 21, members of the Vulcan United Church Hi-C Group presented a Nativity Play entitled, "Come and Behold Him."

Caroline Henry was narrator and some members of the CGIT assisted in the chorus work. Others taking part were Leslie Lucas, Donna McKay, Carol Graves, Brenton Nickerson, Leslie Perly and Billie Tompkins, who took the parts of the children seeking the new born king. Those representing the angels were Margaret Giles, Myrna Jamison, Ann Jamison, Marilyn Hansen, Kathleen Knive, Marion Knive and Linda Peters. Carol Ann Berg took the part of Gabriel while Mary was enacted by Marion Willard and Maurice Wierenga was Joseph. The three shepherds were Carson Horne, Leighton Lucas and Jack Rourke. Howard Brinton and Larry Northcott represented the guards and Allan Jordan, King Herod, while David Hansen, Barrie Deal and Wayne Erickson were the Three Kings. Ushers for the service were Brian Erickson, Allan Deal, Ronald Brinton and Donald Houlton.

This was the first undertaking of a presentation of this kind to be sponsored by this group of young people and their efforts were well rewarded, with an exceptionally large congregation present for the program.

Following the performance Kathleen Knive, president of the Hi-C's thanked Mrs. Doug Paris who assisted at the organ and Mrs. Donald Sharpe who had spent so many hours training the cast and preparing costumes, and made a presentation on behalf of the group. The work of Wm. Giles, who assisted with the lighting effects, was also greatly appreciated.

Christmas Concert

The annual Christmas Concert of the Primary and Junior Departments of the Vulcan United Sunday School took place on Friday evening in the church hall. Each class took part in the program with group songs and recitations, as well as numerous solo selections. Bringing the evening to a gala conclusion, Santa arrived with his bag of treats for each girl and boy.

BERRYWATER

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Healy will spend Christmas with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lahd, at Queenstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Healy and children will be Christmas day guests at the R. Schultz home at Champion.

People don't get weak eyes from looking at the bright side of life.

This young Vulcan girl is taking her first awed look at the wonder of Christmas—the green tree, the lights, Santa Claus and the toys. The scene is repeated in homes everywhere, this year and every year, and is a cherished memory to all people of Christmas at home.

Christmas Party At Kindergarten High School Holds Annual Ball

The kindergarten which is conducted two half-days a week at the Church of Christ, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Dann and Mrs. John Smith, held a very successful Christmas party on Wednesday last, when mothers and grandmothers were present to view the achievements of the little ones.

Opening the program the children demonstrated their choral work by singing a number of their favorite action songs and Christmas carols. Following this Mrs. Smith conducted the group in a demonstration of their physical exercises and relay races, which were much enjoyed both by the participants and the onlookers. Several selections of group recitations concluded the interesting program following which the children were seated at a gaily decorated Christmas party table for their refreshments and tea was served to the adult guests.

At the conclusion of the party each child present received a Christmas exchange gift from the foot of the lighted Christmas tree.

The auditorium of the Vulcan High School was gaily decorated with streamers, balloons and Christmas motifs for the Christmas Ball which was held on Friday evening, Dec. 19, with music supplied by McLeod's Orchestra.

Guests were present from several surrounding towns as well as numerous university students who are home for the holidays. Many parents and teachers were also present to enjoy the well conducted dance. Lunch was served at midnight by members of the student body.

ated Christmas party table for their refreshments and tea was served to the adult guests.

At the conclusion of the party each child present received a Christmas exchange gift from the foot of the lighted Christmas tree.

The following week, stores will close as usual on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 31, as well as on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 1-2.

J. M. McKay On Prov.-Municipal Advisory Comm.

A six-man Provincial-Municipal Advisory Committee has been set up by the Provincial Government to help resolve problems in the field of Provincial-Municipal relations. Organization of the committee was announced previously.

Committee members include J. M. McKay of Brant and Gordon Moyer of Ft. Saskatchewan, representing the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts; Mayor William Hawrelak of Edmonton and J. McAfee of Red Deer, representing the Union of Alberta Municipalities, and two, yet unnamed members of the Executive Council of Alberta.

Christmas Seal Sale Report

Returns from the Christmas Seal Sale campaign amounted to $1,519 toward the objective of $2,400, according to C. R. Andrews, chairman of the Lions Club of Vulcan, TB Christmas Seal Sale Committee. "Daily receipts are coming in well," he said, "and we are a little ahead of the comparable total for the same time last year. We have quite a way to go to reach our objective, but there are still nearly 1,000 people who received seals not heard from yet, and we are hopeful they will send in their contributions before Christmas."

County Committees Hold Final Meetings of Year

Vulcan County Councillors held their usual December meetings on Dec. 17, 18 and 19, and cleared up the 1958 business. At the School Committee meeting held on Thursday, arrangements were made to replace the school vans operating to the Carmangay school. It was decided that a fleet of new vans be purchased and run by the County School Committee. It is expected that the new vans will be in operation on Jan. 5.

A letter from the Students' Union at Carmangay, asking that a soft drink dispenser be installed in the school was left over for discussion with the principals.

A motion was passed accepting the resignation of Mrs. Lucille Deitz from the teaching staff at Milo effective Jan. 18. Mrs. Hermann was engaged to fill the vacancy for the balance of the term. The committee spent considerable time discussing the teacher problems at Milo and Vulcan Elementary school.

At the County Council meeting held on Friday, Mr. McKay reported to the Council on the meeting of the Municipal Finance Corporation held in Edmonton on Dec. 15. A report was given to the Council that the Finance Corporation would be handling all the debentures this year and that the debentures would be from 5% to 6%.

It is expected that operations will commence on April 1, 1959. A petition to install an electric submersible pump and build a shelter over it at the Herronton School was considered and no action taken to accede to the request. Councillor Green was instructed to clean up the pump house and well in the hamlet of Mossleigh.

Councillors considered the new Dominion Government Winter Works Program and decided to make application for assistance to crush and stockpile gravel and the labor on the new building which is being erected at this time.

The Council approved a license to L. C. Maisey to operate a restaurant business at Herronton. Council also passed a motion to approve the proposed subdivision on the east side of No. 23 Highway adjacent to the Town of Vulcan. The Councillors dealt with a number of applications to purchase land in the Lomond area, formerly under the direction of the Special Areas Board. A policy of selling this land at two and one half times the assessed value, with 20% cash and nine years at 5% was adopted. Lands were sold as follows: N.W. 14 & S.E. 22-16-19-4 sold to Leonard Huff, N.W. 33-17-20-4 sold to L. Stokes; N.E. 32-17-20-4 sold to R. Stokes; E.E. 30 & N.W. 32-15-20-4 sold to E. Hegland; S.E. 28-17-19-4 sold to J. E. Root, and S.E. 1-16-20-4 to Clifford L. Koch. Council passed a unanimous motion to make application to the Minister for permission to hold the 1959 Annual Meeting on Saturday, Feb. 14. This would be one week earlier than the statutory day. It was felt advisable to do this due to the lateness of the regular day. If this permission is granted, the regular 1959 municipal nominations will be held on February 14, and any election would take place four weeks later on March 14.

Christmas Music Is Enjoyed

An evening of Christmas music was presented by the Vulcan United Senior and Junior Choirs on Wednesday, Dec. 17, with the proceeds going towards the organ fund of the church.

Both choirs, which are conducted by Robert Kerruish, rendered Christmas anthems, as well as familiar carols. Solos were rendered by Miss Peggy Fraser, W. A. Shields and the conductor, Robert Kerruish.

Passages of scripture portraying the Christmas story were read by the minister, Rev. Donald A. Sharpe.

Mrs. W. W. Almond was organist for the occasion.

BOUQUET FOR MERCHANTS

An old friend of ours and farmer of this district for many years dropped in at the office the other day to specifically tell us how much he had enjoyed doing his Christmas shopping in Vulcan.

The courteous, friendly service he invariably received was high on his bouquet list, but the excellent selection of merchandise, reasonable prices and nicely decorated stores had also caught his attention. And one big advantage of shopping at home—too often overlooked by those who feel they simply must go to the city to shop—was the pleasure of being able to park his car within a block or two of the stores and not having to contend with the hurrying, jostling crowds encountered in the city's pre-Christmas rush.

The small-town merchant is too often unfavorably compared with his larger contemporary in the city, so we take pleasure in passing along this unsolicited testimonial.

Christmas comes and reawakens
The Appreciation of Pleasant Associations;
It Rekindles the Warmth of Friendships
Which are dear to all.

Your patronage during the past year has been appreciated and we extend to one and all our best wishes for

A Very Merry Christmas

A WATCH AND A BIBLE
In Scotland a century ago, as possibly in some places today, there were two recognized signs of a man's leadership in a home—a watch and a Bible. We read for instance in the biography of Robert Burns that, on the death of his father, he took his father's watch and the family Bible, as symbols of the fact that he was now the head of the family. They are two very suggestive symbols, the watch and the Bible. They may be said to stand for the two frontages of life, on time and on eternity. The watch suggests the ordering of life by time; the Bible pictures the ordering of life by eternity. The real requirement for effective living is to bring the wisdom of eternity, in the Bible, into the affairs of time.

Read Revelation 10:6.

CARMANGAY

Residents of Carmangay will not have to worry about water during the winter months now if the samples sent from a flowing well prove successful. A flowing well well located about one quarter mile west of town, just over the coulee hill was drilled to the depth of 207 feet on Tuesday, Dec. 16. It has been said that the well is flowing at the rate of about 100 gallons a minute. The reason for drilling for water was because each winter when the Little Bow River freezes, the town experiences a water shortage. Samples of water have been sent to Edmonton, which if they prove successful will result in an ample water supply for the town.

WE PRINT ITTHE VULCAN ADVOCATE

Against the East

The Brooks Bulletin recently took a crack at "Self-centered Toronto" in its editorial columns, drawing a reply from a Calgary man, R. A. Anderson, in defence of Toronto and the East. The Bulletin's reply, reprinted below, makes good reading, we think.

"For the benefit of Mr. Anderson, and possibly other easterners who have recently come West, it is our intention herewith to recapitulate some economic facts in Canada's history, concerning which the East does not seem to be well-informed.

Prior to the opening of the West through the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Canada was a debt-ridden, poverty-stricken nation. In the twenty years between 1881 and 1901 over 600,000 Canadians had emigrated to the United States. In the latter part of the 1890's the government of Canada threw open for farm settlement 60,000,000 acres of land in the prairie provinces. In the first ten years of the present century 200,000 farms were established in this area, the population of Canada doubled, and that of the prairie provinces trebled. By 1914, 3,000,000 immigrants came to Canada and 1,000,000 settled in the west.

The impact of this large scale western development on Canada's economy was spectacular. The building and equipping of farm homes and the supplying of farm machinery, fencing, hardware and other needs required an immense amount of manufacturing. The new villages and towns had to be built and cities enlarged. To provide for the eastern flow of grain, railways had to be extended and new equipment supplied, canals had to be dug and facilities had to be built on lake and ocean ports.

A big market for manufacturing was created and Eastern Canada got the business and enjoyed an industrial boom. The foundation was laid for the immense industrial establishments now located in Ontario and Quebec, which even today still do about 85% of Canada's manufacturing.

As early as 1879 tariff laws were passed providing protection for Canadian industry. At the start the duty on fully manufactured industrial equipment was 25%, on cotton and woolen goods 20% to 34%, on furniture 25%, on china-ware 25% and the same on footwear. That list is but a partial one on necessities which were protected. After nearly 80 years of tariff protection the industries of the east still seem unable to compete with the industries of other countries. And the people of the west must pay higher prices.

Over the intervening years the production of grain and other farm products in the west has been fabulous. The value of grain production alone in the past half a century has been in excess of thirty billion dollars. And most of that money has been diverted to the east, wherein is the greatest accumulation of Canadian capital. The head offices of the nation's banks, the big insurance companies, railways, trust companies and manufacturing industries are in Toronto and Montreal. The wealth produced so lavishly here has been flowing eastward in a constant stream, year after year.

The people of the west have had to bear the load of higher costs for the manufactured goods they require, of the increasing burden of railway freight rates, and of overseas markets for our farm products being restricted because we cannot freely buy goods in exchange.

Ontario and Quebec do not give a tinker's cuss word about our plight in having to carry the burden of constantly increasing freight rates on the railways. They would not extend the slightest help in the way of protest against such increases, because they know their manufacturing industries have us in their grip. Most of the increased railway pay is distributed in their areas and they are not harmed economically by any raises in freight rate. Meanwhile our living costs mount.

Canada without a West would be a much poorer nation. The east does not have the agricultural lands to feed its 12,000,000 people, not to mention the surpluses for export. The East hasn't the oil and gas resources, the coal resources nor the forest resources of the West. Cut off the annual flow of wealth from the West to the East and Eastern people would have a much more difficult time in making a good living.

Western Canada has made, and is making, a tremendous contribution to the progress and prospects of this dynamic nation. But the West is not getting the treatment it deserves and has earned from the snug self-centered East."

Man who is willing to make the best of it, seldom gets the worst of it.

Children are a great deal more apt to follow your lead than the way you point.

HERRONTON

(Too Late For Last Week)

The dance and raffle, sponsored by the school on Dec. 5, was a huge success. It netted plenty of money to buy the duplicator for the school. The teachers and students wish to thank everyone who helped them: Mrs. Davies for her donation of chocolates for the raffle; Verno Westersund for his donation of a plane ride, and all the parents who brought lunch and served at the dance.

The Herronton School party is being held on the afternoon of Dec. 22, to celebrate Christmas. There will be a program from the school, gifts will be exchanged and many festivities will be held.

Mrs. Gordon Sowell spent several days with her daughter, Mrs. Eric Watson and family at High River. Mrs. Mable Davies and Jim Davies journeyed to Edmonton on the weekend to take Glen Davies of Clarksburg, to the University Hospital for further treatment.

I Wish . . .

I wish that every child could know the rural charm . . .
Which casts its spell on all who spend a summer on the farm.
I wish that every city kid could see the lovely dawn . . .
With pasture grass a-sparkle till the morning dew is gone . . .
And then behold the brilliant blooms of flowers growing wild . . .
A gift the Lord has sent to show His love for every child.
I wish that kids from city streets could play in stacks of hay . . .
And feed the coys and chickens and could also find their way . . .
To brooks and streams that trickle through the splendor of the woods
And know that Mother Nature owns far more than worldly goods.
I wish the kids who play in streets could see the wondrous sight . . .
Of sunsets as they slowly fade from gold to gray of night . . .
And hear the soothing melody that sighs through friendly trees . . .
To bring to man and bird and beast a blessing on the breeze.
For youngsters would be better off if they could know the charm
Which casts its spell on all who spend a summer on the farm.

It's a winter's night, and an angel song . . . a giant star, and a tiny stable . . . a manger, and straw, and swaddling clothes.

Christmas is a chime . . . a boy soprano, and Silent Night . . . carolers, and The First Noel . . . the tinkle of a bell on a sleigh, of a coin in a cup.

Christmas is Dickens, and Scrooge, and Tiny Tim. It's holly on the door, a candle in the window . . . the scent of pine, and the sparkle of tinsel.

Christmas is red and green, and blue and silver. Christmas is white.

Christmas is cards, and ribbon, and tissue paper. It's a trip home, an open latch, and a handclasp. It's gables, and biscuits . . . cranberries, and mincemeat pie.

Of Many Things

By Ambrose Hills

FOR FIGHTERS ONLY!

If you are one of the pathetic cynics who has sneered at free enterprise, don't read this column because you won't like it.

As a columnist, I've met every sort and description of men from stumblebums to tycoons, professors to lip-readers. The kind of man I always liked and always will like is the fellow who is frankly out to make money — because money, to him, is the index of his performance.

I like the preacher who wants to attract big crowds to his church, so that he'll get bigger collections and build a bigger, more beautiful church.

I like the worker who wants more pay in his weekly envelope because he knows that the pay is the result of his own skill and willingness to cut the mustard.

I can't stand neatly-mouthed dogooders (it should read "talk-gooders" because few of them actually DO anything) who rant about social consciousness, equality, and all that sort of thing, which they expect from others. I'd respect them if they had their hands in their pockets forking out some dough while making free with the words — but most of those fellows seldom fork out for anything.

I like farmers who are frankly out to make money out of their farms, and I especially like those who do make it. I fail to see that a poor farmer is more virtuous than a rich one — indeed, in my experience, the reverse is more likely to be true.

I write this column, in anger, because I have just been reading the guff written by a bunch of United States Senators who want to see the big General Motors Corporation split up. They say it is too big, too successful, too powerful. What filthy rot! If those snivelling Senators would encourage other corporations to grow big they'd be doing more for us than they'll ever accomplish by chopping a big corporation down.

Surely to Heaven this country wants men and women who are out to win, to build big things, to make big money. Men who lead rather than lean. You can trust a man who is forthrightly out to make money; I'll be darned if you can trust the kind of man who isn't. Look back through your life and see if that hasn't been true. Who makes the jobs, who pays the bills, who gains and gives.

In the name of "Welfare" and "Social Conscience" and dogooder double-talk, we are letting the very men who could do things for us be tied up in red tape so tightly they cannot produce. We've made free-enterprise a dirty word, when it ought to be a proud one. We've mistaken soft heads for soft hearts.

If you want to find a truly soft heart, the place to look for it is in the bosom of a man with a hard head. Think back through your own experience and you'll know that what I say is true.

The meeting was opened by repeating the creed in unison. Minutes, correspondence and financial reports were given, which was followed by a short business meeting.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Lel Holland, the new president, presented gifts to the 1957 officers, Mrs. Vera Stokes, Mrs. Alice Clifford and Mrs. Mary Frost. Perfect attendance prizes were presented to Mrs. Vera Stokes, Mrs. Alice Clifford and Mrs. Alice Gerhan.

The minutes of the previous meeting and treasurer's report were disposed of in order. Some correspondence was read, including two thank you notes for gifts received from the W.M.F. Mrs. A. Johnson gave a very interesting reading of the history of the work of the W.M.F. during the past year.

The next meeting will be held at the parsonage on Jan. 21, with Mrs. Norman Foster as hostess. The roll call to be answered with turning in self-denial envelopes.

The meeting was closed with several Christmas carols and the "Lord's Prayer" repeated in unison.

Pastor and Mrs. Foster were then presented with a Christmas gift from the W.M.F. Mrs. Lena Huff was also presented with a lovely gift in appreciation of her work as president and leader of our W.M.F. since it was started four years ago. Mrs. Phyllis Huff was also presented with a gift in appreciation of her work as secretary during the last three years.

While lunch was being prepared by the hostess, some sewing and fancy work was shown for sale. A

I'll Bet She Couldn't Either

A ten-year-old boy who presented his parents with a dreary report card, did not feel a bit chastened or inferior. Instead, he said, "I'd like to give the teacher an exam. I'll bet you I could ask her lots of things I'll bet she doesn't know." Whereupon he listed the questions he would ask his teacher. The long list included:

How can you tell a GMC or a Mack truck from a Ford truck from the rear?

What food can you put out at a bird feeding station that even grosbeaks like?

What is the horsepower of a caterpillar bulldozer, model D-8?

Where is the best place in the neighborhood to catch frogs?

What do they use a 0-4-0 locomotive for?

What is a Phelps screwdriver, and what do you feed a pet garter snake?

What is the best way to start a car when the starter's stuck?

How do you tell grouse from pheasant tracks in the snow?

What's the difference between a Christie and a jump turn on water skis?

Why do some trucks have dual rear wheels?

"There," said the young man, "is an exam I could pass easy."

number of articles were sold and $12 was added to our fund. Many donations had been turned in by members for which we give our many thanks.

A very lovely lunch was then served by the hostess and her assistants. Mrs. Magnuson very kindly furnished the lunch at her own request.

Student Aid Increased By Provincial Government

The special committee established last September to study expansion of the Provincial Government's program of Student Aid has now submitted a preliminary set of findings and recommendations which have been considered and approved by the cabinet. The estimates to be submitted to the next Session of the Legislature will include appropriations to cover the cost of the enlarged program in 1959-60.

The Government's objective in launching the new program, as stated by Premier E. C. Manning last August when announcing the Government's Five-Year Anti-Recession Development Program, is "to ensure that no deserving student in Alberta will, through lack of money, be deprived of an opportunity to obtain a university education."

The five members comprising the Committee which is conducting a study of the Student Aid Program are: D. R. Cameron, Registrar of the Department of Education (Chairman); R. E. Byron, Director of Vocational Education; S. A. Earl, Co-ordinator of Teacher Education; G. Samuel, Assistant to the President, University of Alberta; and Dr. A. J. Cook, Director, Student Advisory Services, University of Alberta.

It is estimated that during the school year 1959-60 the total cost of the program approved by the Cabinet will be about $1,171,500.00 and that about 4,600 deserving students will benefit by the way of the scholarships, bursaries, grants and loans provided by the program.

The type and amount of assistance which may be awarded to a student will depend on the financial need of the student and his standard of school performance. While financial aid will be made available to students in high schools, technical and vocational instruction, junior colleges and the Banff School of Fine Arts, the greater part of the million-dollar program will be allocated to assist under-graduate university students.

The following is a brief analysis of the program in terms of areas of assistance, types of awards, estimated number of students to benefit, and the amounts of money required for next year:

University Students

(1) Scholarships, bursaries, grants and loans for matriculants and under-graduates, an estimated 1,200 awards, costing approximately $475,000.

(2) Grants and loans for teachers in training, an estimated 1,400 awards, costing approximately $475,000.

(3) Fellowships and scholarships for advanced students in the Faculty of Graduate studies, an estimated 35 awards, costing approximately $40,000.

Vocational Students

(1) Loans, prizes and bursaries for students pursuing approved programs in the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art and the Provincial Schools of Agriculture, an estimated 300 awards, costing approximately $70,000.

(2) Awards to nurses in training, an estimated 50 grants, costing approximately $5,000.

High School Students and Special Students

(1) Scholarships and bursaries for high school students, an estimated 1,600 awards, costing approximately $103,000.

(2) Scholarships for students attending the Banff School of Fine Arts — $3,500.

The committee on Student Aid will continue to meet throughout the winter. The members intend to make a further study of the forms of assistance, to consider the feasibility of introducing a greater degree of co-ordination in the field of student awards, and to work out in more detail the procedures and mechanics necessary for the operation of the Provincial Government's plan.

Once again we near the end of another year. 1958 will soon be history and 1959 will be reality. Of course the magic word is Christmas. In the celebration of the birth of CHRIST, we forget our troubles for a little while and remember only the blessings that have been ours. Hearts are filled with friendship and good will toward all, and for a short time at least we live the Golden Rule and realize that it is more blessed to give than receive.
